Awaken to the new world

The Quest for Femininity is a sanctuary for ideas that last — an intuitive think tank
for individuals and organizations overwhelmed by the pace and complexity of today's world,
seeking to act and build from a place of stillness,
connected to themselves and to nature,
to awaken and co-create a new world together.

Our story

Urša's Quest for Femininity began after a successful decade-long career in tech and business, where burnout and friction revealed just how disconnected she had become from the natural flow of life, her inner wisdom, and deeper purpose.

She now guides individuals and teams in tech & business back to their inner kingdom — through dance, meditations, embodiment, fire ceremonies, and self-inquiry, supported by a circle of experienced facilitators.

Our vision

- Bringing individuals and organizations back to their authentic selves.
- Facilitating connections with nature, our primal environment.
- Co-envisioning a future rooted in authenticity and purpose.

Why Nature?

- Silence breeds insight.
- Birdsong invites intuition.
- Movement clears the mind.
- Earth grounds innovation.

“You can’t solve a problem from the same level of thinking that created it.” – Einstein
